Welcome from director, Stephen Hughes-Alty

Once upon a time, not so very long ago there was a dedicated group of young actors, an immensely skilled musical director, a fleet-footed choreographer and an amazing production team of diligent miracle-workers. They made the director's job very easy and he lived happily ever after (Or at least till after the end of the rehearsal process.) I am indebted to them all. Thanks also to you, our audience, for choosing to accompany us deep into the realms of childhood. Keep to the path and you should return safely!

A note from Judith Gorse, Youth Theatre Co-ordinator

When I first heard the score for 'Into the Woods' I thought they'd never do it! How wrong I was! I should have known that the members of our extremely talented Youth Theatre would rise to the challenge and when you see tonight's production you'll see exactly what I mean. My thanks to everyone involved in this production for their creativity, talent and endless patience. Sit back, relax and enjoy your journey 'Into the Woods'.
