Message from Judith Gorse Youth Theatre Co-ordinator

What a challenge! 'Les Miserables', the longest running production in musical theatre history – but what an experience for our younger members.

As always, I must thank Stephen and Paul for their dedication and expertise. Under their tutelage, the Youth Theatre goes from strength to strength.

Thank you also to Arnold and his veritable army of helpers who help to create the sights and sounds of 19th Century France.

I must also thank all of the other members who work tirelessly to support the Youth Theatre in their capacity as FOH staff, bar staff and box office staff. Without their help we would not be able to function.

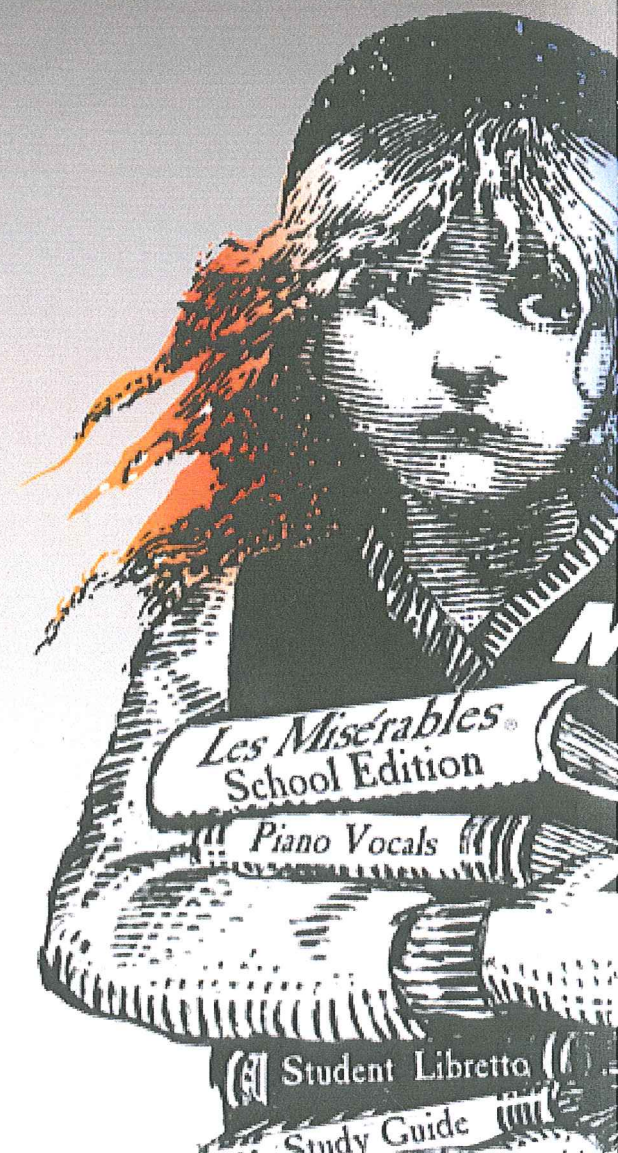

Finally, thanks to you, our audience, for joining us on this adventure. We hope you find it a moving and memorable experience.

We have!

The SDC Youth Theatre presents

Les Misérables

School Edition

The Story

Jean Valjean is released from prison after nineteen years for stealing bread to save his sister's starving child. An act of kindness makes him re-evaluate his life and he vows to devote his life to good.

Years later, Valjean is now a wealthy man, after breaking his parole to start afresh. He rescues an illegitimate child of a dying woman who works in his factory.

Despite the determination of Inspector Javert, who wants to see the ex-convict back behind bars, Valjean moves to Paris and raises the girl, Cosette, as his own daughter.

Upon reaching maturity, Cosette falls for a student named Marius who is involved in a civil uprising. When Marius goes to fight on the barricades, Valjean follows.

When the students are killed, Valjean escapes with the unconscious Marius, therefore securing Cosette's happiness.

Javert confronts Valjean but releases him, causing the inspector to evaluate his own moral code and commit suicide.

On his deathbed, Valjean reflects upon his deeds and eventually finds the peace he has so sorely desired.
