

INTO THE WOODS

Once upon a time, in a far off kingdom there lived a young maiden called Cinderella, a simple lad named Jack and a childless baker and his wife...

So begins Sondheim's dark fantasy 'Into the Woods'. Join the hapless Baker and his spouse as they journey deep into the forest to dispel the curse that has been placed upon their house by a wicked witch. In order to lift the spell they must find a slipper as pure as gold, hair as yellow as corn, a cow as white as milk and a cloak as red as blood.

Before their journey is over they have helped Jack reach his kingdom in the sky, saved Little Red Riding Hood from the dastardly wolf, assisted Cinderella in evading her prince and found Rapunzel's tower deep in the forest's heart.

But not all stories end happily ever after. What happens when you obtain your heart's desire? Is it enough? Is it ever enough?

And what of the young boy lost amidst the trees with only his toys for company? Who is he and why is he there? Journey with us 'Into the Woods' but do not stray from the path because who knows what may be lurking in the shadows...
